A successful transition: Jessica Arzner-Häny is the new owner of Häny Limited

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are delighted to inform you that the ownership of Häny Limited has changed hands successfully. Jessica Arzner-Häny has taken over Häny Limited from her father, Eduard P. Häny, who is to start his well-earned retirement after many years of service in the family-run business.

This may sound like a straightforward succession plan, but it marks a new chapter in the remarkable history of this traditional Swiss company. Jessica Arzner-Häny is now the sixth-generation owner of the family-run company with a history spanning over 140 years, which has established itself as a successful system provider for pump solutions. She is to manage Häny Limited in close cooperation with her mother, Sabina Häny, who has been in charge of the operational side of the business since 2008 in her position as CEO.

Jessica Arzner-Häny completed her degree in Social Work at Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts in 2013. She has been a member of the Häny Limited Board of Directors since back in 2009, and has therefore been closely linked to the company management for many years. She is married, and has one son. Regarding her new role as the company owner, she says: I have had the good fortune of being able to build on the solid foundation of years of work done by the generations who came before me. My father, in particular, has been of extraordinary assistance and I would like to thank him for the confidence he has had in me. Now, full of energy and passion, I can take over a healthy, agile and modern company and am really looking forward to supporting you in the future."

Now the baton has been passed to the next generation, Häny Limited is perfectly equipped for the future, and we are looking forward to taking the next steps together with you.

With best wishes,
Häny Limited

Eduard P. Häny
